There was a huge fruit tree on the road just on the outskirts of a village. It had a very cool shadow and hence the travelers were attracted to this tree. It grew fruits that looked very similar to mango.

However, the fruits of this tree were poisonous. The local villagers knew about it and never ate them. Plenty of fruits grew on this tree as the villagers never consumed them Throw away this fruit. Never eat this fruits. They look like mango but are very poisonous. Go back to the village and play there.

However, the villagers allowed the poisonous tree to grow as they found it very beneficial. Travelers on this road would often take shelter under this tree. They would consume the attractive fruits and soon die. The villagers would then come and steal their belongings.

The villagers who were watching all this time soon came to the scenes.
Thank you for saving our life. How did you know that these fruits were poisonous?
www.iskcondesiretree.com

I pass by this tree frequently. I have always seen this tree full of fruits. The villagers never eat it and don't allow any children to play here.Hence, I was sure this was a poisonous tree.

The travelers asked the villagers..
If you know that this tree is poisonous than why don't you simply cut it down?

Then he asked the villagers...
Is this not true?
Yes, it is true.
www.iskcondesiretree.com

My guess was right. Let us immediately cut this tree down before it causes any more deaths.

The villagers could not refuse. If they objected then they could be caught.
